

Canyon

Rocky mountains and unspoilt nature where wind meets stone. The combining of these elements is the inspiration behind Canyon, a bold and essential porcelain stoneware collection by Isla Tiles which captures the majestic beauty of rock walls and brings it into the architectural projects of today. Canyon tells the story of the succession of the seasons that have shaped the stone and, thanks to the best ceramic technology, were the inspiration behind a surface featuring high technical performance with an extremely realistic texture, which highlights the stratifications and shading typical of rock.

Canyon is a multi-size collection, available in four natural colours. Ivory is the nuance that captures sunset light on stone, and is ideal for warm and welcoming atmospheres; Grey is reminiscent of the shadows on the rock and brings the sophisticated elegance of grey to architectural spaces. A touch of rich and enveloping authenticity comes from the Brown colour, while Black is the most intense shade, dedicated to the mining depths, and bestows character to contemporary projects.

The range of sizes also includes hexagon and mosaic, for an installation layout open to creative customisation. Canyon is a visually striking ceramic project, versatile and contemporary, able to meet the stylistic needs of today and create continuity between outdoor and indoor spaces.
