

Castelli

Once upon a time there was an ancient stone ... It sounds like the beginning of a novel, but it is the inspiration behind the creation of CASTELLI, the new full-body porcelain stoneware collection by Isla Tile. The ceramic surface is a faithful rendering of the characteristics and structure of natural stone, with its fascinating irregularities.

Man's history was written in stone, out of which he created grandiose buildings and works, such as castles. The beauty of the material of inspiration, which appears to recount ancient tales, is not influenced by current trends, and pairs perfectly with traditional as well as modern design. The technical qualities of the ceramic make the product wear-resistant and extremely practical.

The CASTELLI collection is available in four neutral colours, with a range of shades: Ecrù, the lightest; Tabacco, with warm tones; Cenere, dedicated to grey hues; Vanilla, the most delicate shade. The six modular sizes, from 5x20 to 80x80 cm, are suited to the designing of ever new creative installation layouts, to customize any type of architectural environment.
